Dean

Dean, Faculty of Global Nursing
Prof. Hiromi FUJII,
PhD., RM., RN

The Faculty of Global Nursing was established in April 2019 as Japan's first nursing school that advocates a "global" viewpoint.

This faculty aims to:

- Develop human resources to acquire logical and practical knowledge and the ability to act appropriately.
- Develop human resources capable of providing fair and equitable medical care to all people, including those with diverse values, traditions, and lifestyles.

Therefore, our mission is to develop human resources capable of communicating globally, mainly in English, so that diverse people can lead healthy lives in both medical settings and in local communities, transcending differences in language and culture.

Partner Institutions

- University of Adelaide (Australia)
- Flinders University (Australia)
- Yonsei University (South Korea)
- Tzu Chi University of Science and Technology (Taiwan)
- Mega Buana Palopo University (Indonesia)
- Chiang Mai University (Thailand)
- Philippine General Hospital (Philippines)
- Nanyang Polytechnic (Singapore)
- The Institute of Mental Health (Singapore)

Features

Study

The Faculty offers specialized courses to train nurses. We introduce the latest medical technology and equipment to help students acquire the skills necessary in the profession.

Globalism

As the first Global Nursing faculty in Japan, we want students to be able to work internationally. Students will understand and respect cultural differences and diversity through the courses we offer. We also have medical English classes to enable our students to communicate effectively in global settings.

Clinical Practice

Students will practice at a variety of practical training facilities, hospitals, medical institutions, non-profit organizations, as well as at our partner institutions.

❖ Institute of Global Nursing

In April 2019, the OTEMAE University Institute of Global Nursing (IGN) was established at OTEMAE University. This institute is developing activities aimed at nurturing the next generation of nurses, with the main objectives of the International Learning Collaborative (ILC) and the international nursing research activities of The OTEMAE University Implementation Center (OUIC).

The purpose of this research institute, which was established in the Faculty of Nursing, is to embody OTEMAE University's mission of "collaborating with the community, contributing to the development of the community, and contributing to the international community through education and research."

as a more specific goal :

- Conducting specialized research to contribute to public health
- Collaborating with local communities and contributing to local and global society

In other words, we are working as a platform to practice Think globally, Act locally.

❖ Graduate School of Global Nursing

The graduate school was established in April 2023.

Our mission is to contribute to the health and happiness of people with diverse backgrounds who live in global society both in Japan and overseas, based on advanced nursing practice techniques.

Based on globalism, research ability, and practical ability, we aim to develop global human resources about nurse, midwife and public health nurse who can tackle various health problems, explore better nursing, and solve problems through collaboration with interdisciplinary fields.
